Dear Brother Cannon—
We now have a prospect of . . .

army during the winter. They would not give any contract for winter supplies to a "Mormon," but all their contracts have been given to Gentiles, and the consequence is, that they are not supplied with either hay, wood, or flour; finding, however, winter upon them, and but a few days' bread on hand, and not being able to procure it, they appealed to Bishop John Sharp for help, to save them from starvation. For flour they offered him $12 per hundred pounds. The Bishop told them that if he helped them he would have to treat them as he did those in his ward—that was, to know, himself, what quantity of provisions they had on hand. The Commissary flung open his stores to the Bishop, and the latter found that they had but a few days' provisions on hand; so the Bishop, with President Young's assistance, will undertake to feed the army. Bread-stuff will be very scarce, the Territory before another harvest. The army is trying to get out its own wood, they find it "up and down hill business" to them—broken legs and frozen limbs being the consequence. . . .
